City Bridge Subscription.

THE President and Directors of the Company for erecting a permanent Bridge over the river Schuylkill, at or near the city of Philadelphia, having, at the time of their first publication, received subscriptions to near half the amount of the capital or joint stock thereof; suspended further solicitations until a site on which to erect said bridge should be procured.—That object being now effected, by a purchase of the necessary property at the west end of High street, on both sides of the river Schuylkill.

Public Notice is Given,

That the book for Subscriptions to the capital or joint stock of the said company will be opened at their office No. 23, north Fifth Street, on Monday the 10th of June next, and continue open from ten to one o'clock every day (Sunday's excepted) until the whole shall be subscribed for, on the terms specified in the act of incorporation.—

The time is extended in order to afford opportunity to the friends of this important undertaking, on the west side of Schuylkill, or at a distance, to participate in an object of great public good.—Subscriptions and deposits may nevertheless be previously made at the Treasurer's office, No. 13 Church alley, subject to a proportionate reduction on the amount of subscriptions over and above the limited number of shares, if any there shall be, at the end of the 13th day of June ensuing.

In the 10th section of the law of incorporation it is enacted, that the nett profits on tolls may equal, but shall not exceed 15 per cent annually; and that the excess shall compose a fund for the redemption of the said bridge.

A port folio is opened at the said office, to receive all communications, prints or drawings, on the subjects of bridges, ancient or modern, building in water, cements, mortar centres, cassoons coffer-dams, or any information which may tend to mature the knowledge of the directors previous to the intended erection: They are solicited, care will be taken of them, and returned if desired.

PHILADELPHIA,

TUESDAY EVENING, MAY 28.

From the New-York, commercial Advertiser of May 22.

TO THE PUBLIC.

In the Argus of this morning is a paragraph that calls for something more than verbal reply. The Editor in attempting to support that mercenary wretch Joel Barlow, against the just indignation of his countrymen, has the unparalleled audacity to compare the President of the United States to Benedict Arnold, the detestable traitor of his country!——If this public outrage upon the Chief Magistrate of the Union is not made the subject of judicial investigation, I shall consider those whose more immediate duty it is to prosecute for this attrocious offence, an abettor of the shameful calumny. I acquit Mrs. Greenleaf of any concern in this publication, but if she will commit the management of her prss to the guidance of such miscreants she must abide the consequences.

CENSOR MORUM.

STATE OF MANHATTAN, ss.

Interrogatories to be administred to Aaron Burr, Esquire, Ex-Representative of the people, Candidate for the Presidency and Vice Presidency of the United States, and of Governor of the State of New-York, and unsuccessful Candidate together with Matthew L. Davis and others to Represent the City of New-York in the next Assembly.

(Socrates observes that he is not personally desirous of inculpating Mr. Burr, but only wishes to investigate the origin of the Manhattan Company, which he considers the most outrageous insult ever offered to an afflicted city. This Company must and will be destroyed, or else confined to some justifiable object. The writer does not even know what are the true answers to some of the following questions, but as he thinks the Socratic method useful in the investigation of truth he means to pursue his queries, and he advises the parties concerned to answer them. Socrates is one of the people, and it is his right to investigate the conduct of those who hold themselves up as candidates for public trust.)

1. Is the Manhattan Company instituted for the purposes of bringing water into the city or of banking and speculation?

2. If it is instituted for the purposes of banking and speculation, wherefore does almost the whole of the act appear to talk of water, and wherefore do you insult the religious sentiments as well as the misfortunes of our citizens by hypocritically invoking the "blessing of God," in aid of a wicked speculation upon the public calamity?

3. Are not all Corporations unwieldy machines, with difficulty made amenable to the laws, and attended with many inconveniences? Is it not on that account that the power of making them is very sparingly exercised by wise legislatures, and that they are never made but for the purpose of compassing some one single object, and that object such a one as the legislature considers to be of public utility and not attainable by the exertions of disconnected individuals? Did you ever hear of any corporation (except the Manhattan Company) instituted for all possible purposes, and therefore having a right to pursue useless or unsalutary objects as well as useful and salutary ones? Does not the Manhattan Company differ from all other corporations in this, that having a right to purfue all objects whatever, it cannot be confined to useful objects only nor to any one object, but may exercise its powers in ways which a wise legislature ought to discourage even in individuals? Cannot this company employ its capital in any objects whatever which the members think for their private advantage, however destructive they may be to the public interest?

4. Does not the difficulty of rendering your company amenable to public justice, the number of its members, its great capital and the universal extent of its powers enable you to monopolize trade and exchange, oppress the industry of individual merchants, convulse private and puplic credit and speculate on the wants, distresses and public calamities of the country, as in effect you are now proposing to do?

5. If the legislature should incorporate a company with the exclusive privilege of robbing on the high ways, do you not believe that fit persons could be found to fill up the subscription and that the stock would sell at par?

6. Are not three fourths of your Directors Democrats? Do you know whether the Democrats ever clamored against the establishment of any Banks whatever, even against those which had limited and well defined powers bestowed by honest legislatures?

7. If the Manhattan Company can now establish a bank is it not authorised to pursue for the space of ten years, any speculations the most foreign to the bringing of water, without expending one cent for that purpose? If they should choose so to do, can you, as a lawyer, point out any remedy that can be pursued againt them till after the ten years are past? If a prosecution should then be brought against them for the forfeiture of their corporate rights, could such prosecution be probably determined in less than five years? and would not the work of bringing water thus begun at the end of fifteen years from this date, require two or three yeas to be compleated? If in the mean time our city should be ravaged by the yellow fever, is it not perfectly in the power of your company to exclude any supply of water from abroad for the space of 12, 15 or or 20 years, provided they should find stock jobbing more profitable than the introduction of water?

NEW-YORK, May 27.

The letter further mentions, "That Talleyrand has submitted a lengthy Memorial to the Directory, in which he strongly recommends the expediency of laying aside all ill will and animosity towards America, and of adjusting matters with us as speedily and amicably as they can; and further proposes, that an Ambassador Extraordinary be instantly dispatched to America, to endeavor to settle the differences existing between the two Republics."

This information comes from a source too respectable to admit of a doubt of its authenticity. Now is the trying time approaching. Having been foiled in their threats, they now mean to employ the more dangerous weapon of insinuation and intrigue. How happy are we that a man of Mr. Adams's penetration and firmness is at the head of public affairs.

Last evening arrived the ship Mermaid, of Portsmouth, N. Hampshire, 25 days from Martinique; the schr. Hera, Savage, 22 days from Antigua; and the sloop——, from Nevis—all under convoy of the Portsmouth as far as Sandy Hook. In the Mermaid came passengers' Mons. Marolles—Mons. Malhepes, lady and two daughters, intending to reside at Elizabethtown. M. Malherbes was formerly an officer in the French army in America.

The schooner Eliza from Charleston, on Wednesday last, on soundings, left the U. S. frigate Portsmouth, with 18 sail of American vessels from St. Thomas's, bound to different ports. [This fleet originally consisted of 73 sail, from the different islands, some of which have arrived.]

CHARLESTON, May 16.

A cause of considerable consequence to the United States, and the situation in which she stands as a neutral nation with some of the belligerent powers, was heard on Tuesday and Wednesday last, in the Circuit Court of the United States, held in this city.

Present—the hon. Oliver Ellsworth, chief justice; the hon. Thomas Bee, district judge.

Don Diego Morphy, consul of his Catholic majesty, vs. Benjamin Moodie consul to his Brittannic majesty. } Bill in Equity, to enjoin the defendant from selling the sch'r or felucca, Nostra Signiora, &c. a Spanish vessel, prize to his Britannic Majesty's ship, the Meleager.

Mr. Desaussure and Mr. Parker, for the complainant; Mr. Pringle and Mr. Ward for the defendant.

On the part of the defendant it was objected, that the intended sale is neither contrary to any existing treaty, or regulation of the executive of the United States, or law of Congress, or law of nations; and that the sale of prizes made by the British, from their enemies, the Spaniards, may be lawfully made in the United States, till our government does, (as it may) by treaty or otherwise, prevent the same; that the judiciary power cannot interpose its authority to enjoin a sale, until the executive shall positively interdict the same.

On the part of the complainant it was answered, that where no right to sell is granted by treaty, or express permission to sell is shewn, that the court of equity is the proper court to apply to, to restrain the party; that it is a right which cannot be supposed to pass by implication, as it goes to cession of a sovereignty; that the permitting a sale would be a breach of neutrality, which ought to place the belligerent powers on an equal footing in all respects.

The chief justice delivered the opinion of the court, to the following purport:

The right to sell cannot be claimed by treaty. On what ground does the right to sell rest? If it exists at all, it rest on a permission. Without doubt a nation may permit a belligerent power to sell, without violating its duties as a neutral power. Treaties aside, it is wholly discretional. The sovereignty of a neutral power authorises the exercise of such discretion. There is a difference between aiding commerce, and the sale of prizes: silence in the ordinary cases of commerce, may be considered as consenting to it; but the sale of prizes stands on different ground, and a positive permission must be granted, before the right can be said to exist. If permitted to sell, they must sell the prizes without a regular enquiry being made, whether it was a legal prize or not, pursuant to the courts of the capturing power; and there is in such case great danger of fraud, and even of the commission of piracy, (a case in which all maratime nations are concerned.) I do not say that a condemnation is requisite; but all nations are interested to discountenance it. The selling of prizes is often very ensnaring, and insensibly draws in the citizens of a neutral state to depart from the observance of a strict neutrality, which is a reason why the neutral nation should be consulted. In this case, no permission from the government is shewn; none is granted by treaty. An attempt therefore to exercise it, is incompatible with the sovereignty of the state. What we are at liberty to grant as favours, must be granted equally; and as we are precluded by treaty from granting this right to a Spaniard, the reason applies with force, why we should not grant it to the British.

As the court does not undertake to decide what it would be proper for the executive to do, I wish to frame the decree so as to admit an application to the executive. Let there be an injunction to stop the sale until the further order of the court, unless permission shall be sooner obtained from the President of the United States.

Captain Micheal Peirce, of the ship Astrea, of New York, burthen nearly 400 tons, with a valuable cargo on board, of tobacco, logwood, sugar and cotton, owned entirely by John Cornelius Vanderheuval, of New-York, with only one passenger on board, who was a young Spanish gentleman, bound home to his parents in Spain, sailed from New York, on the 2d of December; on the 20th of the same month was taken by the British frigate Thalia, commanded by lord Henry Paulet, who took capt. Peirce, his mate and ten of his crew on board the frigate; after some time, sent back to the Astrea the mate only, whose name is Thomas F. Bates. On the 16th January arrived at Gibraltar, the frigate and ship in company: performed a quarantine of a fortnight.

On the 28th January went to court, where the Astrea was libelled: there a packet was produced, addressed to Talleyrand, the contents in cyphers, which the judge, William Mansfield Morrison, who appeared to be about 18 or 20 years of age, surrogate of Duncan Fraser, esq judge of vice-admiralty, said he could make nothing of, nor could any of the court. This packet of cyphers, capt. Peirce understood, was found on board the Astrea, concealed in her quarter galleries, some days after he was carried on board the frigate: the captain of the frigate, it was said, conveyed the packet to admiral Jervis, who conveyed it to the American consul. Under pretence that the above packet being mysterious, must of course be treasonable, capt. Peirce was sent prisoner again on board the frigate on the 31st January. On the 9th of February, the frigate sailing, capt. Peirce was removed on board the Astrea; on the 25th was sent on board the prison ship; and on the 20th of March was sent on board the schooner Nancy for Charleston.

In the mean time capt. Peirce learnt, that the Astrea and her cargo were condemned, as the property of the enemies of Great-Britain; even his own small adventure was not spared.

Capt. Peirce understood that the American consul sent him on here, consigned to the American secretary of state, in consequence of a note from Lord St. Vincent, requesting him to send him and his mate to America as state-prisoners.

I have been induced to publish the foregoing narrative in this place, in consequence of an illiberal paragraph which appeared this morning in a paper called the State Gazette, where the editor, or more probably, I am told, some little-minded paragraph-maker, says, in an ironical style' speaking of myself and mate, "These good men will be very soon able to visit the seat of government, and state their grievances;" and also to remove from the minds of my fellow citizens, any prejudice they might harbour against me, on reading the contemptible account he has given of a transaction, of which the particulars were unknown to him, and which could only spring from malice or ignorance. I sail to-morrow for New-York, from whence I shall repair to the seat of government, where I flatter myself my conduct will appear becoming of the character I held, and where will be investigated the propriety of an American consul's sending me and my mate home as prisoners, at the request of a British admiral, after that admiral had caused to be condemned, without a shadow of proof that has come to my knowledge, a vessel, which perhaps was as valuable as any one that has left the continent for a number of years past.

Signed, MICHAEL PEIRCE.

I have recommended to all my friends in your continent, to send no vessels without the Spanish consul's certificate to all their papers, as a necessary circumstance for their being admitted in our custom house, the want of which has of late given us much trouble."

Interesting Information.

From the New-York Daily Advertiser.

Extract of a letter from Bordeaux, dated March 10, 1799, to a respectable Merchant in this city.

"I cannot close this letter without informing you, that the ship Pigou, captain Green, bound to China, and brought into L'Orient last November having on board 160,000 dollars, has been liberated by the Tribunal of Commerce, together with all her money, except about 37,000, which were got properly carried on the bills of lading, not being specified for whose conduct they were shipped; this valuable prize having been made by two French frigates, her release is considered as indicative of this Government to renew Negociation with America."

The Governor has appointed Mr. John Inskeep, Mr. George Fox, and Capt. Wm. Jones, to be Aldermen of the City of Philadelphia, in the room of Hilary Baker, and Isaac Howell, Esquires, deceased, and J. C. Stocker, Esq. resigned.

The desire of Talleyrand, or of his masters for peace and security, must be very much like that of a robber under the gallows. Rarely is a wretch overtaken by the hand of justice, but he resolves to sin no more, and, if he falls a victim, closes his career by exhorting mankind to a general repentance; if by any means, he waves his doom, he seldom fails to resume his ancient practices. But there are people so devoured by ignorance and obstinacy as to take for a serious disposition towards peace, the idle protestations of men, who have no more controul over the means of bringing it about, than they have over the brutal and sanguinary passions with which they have inundated the society they are now vainly imagined to be capable of restoring to order and harmony.

[The following is the arrêté of the Executive Directory, to which Toussaint refers, in his arrêé, published in yesterday's Gazette.]

Cape Français.

From the Registry of the Deliberations of the Executive Directory.

Paris, 13 Thermidor, year six of the French Republic, one and indivisible.

The Executive Directory, having heard the Report of the Minister of the Marine and of the Colonies;

Considering that the news recently received from the French colonies and from the continent of America, do not permit a doubt that cruizers, French, or calling themselves so, have infringed the laws of the Republic relative to cruizing and prizes;

Considering, that foreigners and pirates have abused the latitude given them at Cayenne and in the Antilles, for arming to cruize or for letters of marque, to cover under the French flag their exactions, and the respect due to the law of nations, as well as to the persons and property of allies and of neutrals, decrees:

Art. I. In future, there shall not be delivered, in the colonies of America, any letter of marque, authority or permission to arm, whether for cruising or for war and merchandize, but by the particular Agents themselves of the Directory, who shall not have power to delegate this right to any person, nor shall themselves use it but in favor of owners, whose principles and whose means shall be well known to them, and shall be moreover held to conform themselves to all the laws of cruizing and prizes, and specially to that of the 1 October 1793.

II. All letters of marque, authorities or commissions issued in the colonies of America, by the particular Agents of the Executive Directory or any other Agents civil and military under their orders, to arm, whether for crizing or for war and merchandize, shall be regarded as null, after the thirteenth day following the publication of the present decree in the said colonies.

III. Every Agent or other delegate, residing in the neutral possessions, for the purpose of judging on the validity of the prizes made by the French cruizers, and who shall be suspected of having an interest direct or indirect in the armaments for cruizing, or for war, and merchandize, shall be immediately recalled.

IV. The particular agents of the Executive Directory at Cayenne, St. Domingo and Guadaloupe, shall cautiously watch that the interests and the property of vessels neutral or allies, be scrupulously respected; and, in any case, they shall not treat for their cargoes but by mutual consent, and to the full and entire satisfaction of the two contracting parties.

V. The said particular Agents of the Executive Directory, the commanders of all vessels of the Republic, the Consuls, Vice-Consuls, and all others invested with powers to that effect, shall cause to be arrested and punished, conformably to the laws, all those who shall contravene the dispositions of the present decree, which shall be printed in the bulletin of the laws, and with the execution of which are charged the Ministers of Exterior Relations and of the Marine and Colonies.

and BRUISE.

Two letters signed "John Nicholas," addressed "to the people," which appeared in the Berkeley Intelligencer (a Virginia paper) of the 15th instant, together with sundry certificates, exhibiting "the proofs and principles on which the writer's fears for the present alarming situation of our country rest," are, we understood, the production of a gentleman of that name, who unsuccessfully opposed the re-election of Mr. CABELL, and not of JOHN NICHOLAS, who was lately re-elected to Congress from the Fredericksburg district, as has been reported in the city a few days past.

Capt. Senkey, of the brig Francis, two days after leaving Cape Francois, spoke the British sloop of war Camilla, capt. Larkins, on board of which were General Maitland, Col. Nighteugale, and suite, all well. The Camilla appeared to be going into Cape Francois.

POSTSCRIPT

From the Boston Chronicle of May 23.

In our last, we stated to the public that we had information of a London paper being in town, containing accounts of the defeat of the Austrians in the battle with gen. Massena. We have taken much pains to procure that paper, which we at last had the good fortune to obtain. We have extracted the most important accounts, among which are the official letters of General Massena.

UPPER RHINE, March 16.

The beginning of the campaign which has been opened on the frontiers of the Grisons, has not been favorable for the Austrians.—The French have penetrated into the Grisons and on the 7th of March taken possession of Coire, the principal town, after having made General Auffenberg, and several thousand men prisoners. The following are the official accounts:

Letter from General Massena to the Helvetic Directory.

Head-Quarters at Aymoos, March 6.

Citizen Directors,

I have the honor to inform you that I have received orders from my government to drive the Austrians from the Grison territory, in order to restore to their rights the patriots who fled into Helvetia; as the Austrian general returns no answer to my summons, I to-day attack him in several points. I hasten, Citizen Directors, to communicate to you the result. The different ferries of the Rhine being swelled by the thaw, were all useless except ode. I caused a bridge to be thrown over the river near Aymoos over which I passed with the brigade of General Lorge: after a very obstinate action of four hours continuance, we possessed ourselves, as night came on, of the fortress of Lucienstieg, which opened us a passage of the Grison territory. I hope to-morrow we shall be able to reap the fruits of this first success. In the mean time we have already taken 400 prisoners, among which are several officers. In the fort we took four pieces of cannon. The enemy had ahe advantage over us in their position and artillery; for, of the latter, we had none. Nothing could be equal to the obstinacy with which the enemy defended this important pass, but the intrepid courage of the conquerors. They made the attack with the bayonets. I wait the report of the more distant attacks. Greeting and esteem.

(Signed) MASSENA.

Letter from General Massena, commander of the French army in Switzerland, to the French Minister at Rastadt.

Head-Quarters at Coire, March 7.

Immediately after taking the important post of Lucienstieg, I continued to press upon the enemy, whom I several times defeated, and entirely put to the rout. He has lost 11 pieces of cannon and four standards. General Auffenberg, whom I summoned to evacuate the Grison teraitory, a number of officers, and 3000 men, are made prisoners, and lastly Coire, the capital of the Grisons, is in the possession of the French army. Gen. Demont, who had orders to attack Reichenau, has made himself master of that place, as likewise of two bridges over the Rhine. He has taken from the enemy two pieces of cannon, two standards, and made 100 prisoners, among whom is a Lieutenant Colonel. Gen. Dudinot, who fought on my left has likewise defeated the enemy, and taken 17 pieces of cannon and 1500 prisoners.

(Signed) MASSENA.

AUGSBURG, March 14.

The first reports of the actions at the sources of the Rhine were here very contradictory; but the truth is now ascertained: The French passed the Rhine in three places. On the left near Feldkirch, they forced gen Hotze to retreat; but this attack was only a feint; their principal force was at Balzers and Reichenau, whence they penetrated to Coire, the capital of the Grisons. This is very unfavorable for the position of the Austrian army and the communication with Germany and Italy. It is said the armed Grisons did not give the Austrians any support.

Gen. Latour is now drawing towards Ulm with 20,000 men.

The fortresses of Braunau and Indoldstadt have been put by the Austrians into a good state of defence.

STRASBURGH, March 14.

The following is an extract of a letter from the French head quarters at Coire:

"General Massena about midnight, on the 6th, summoned Gen. Auffenberg to evacuate the Grison territory. He refused, and was made prisoner the next day. When he came before General Massena, the latter said to him—"The day before yesterday in the evening I wrote to you, yesterday I received your answer, and to-day I have the pleasure of having you to dine with me."

The arrival of the French at Coire has put an end to the process against the patriots.

Nineteen thousand Swiss are already under arms, and commanded by General Keller, who made the English troops at Ostend prisoners.

The following are the accounts of the movements of the armies in Subia.

GUNZBURG, March 10.

The Austrians have detached their posts from Ulm to Geislingen, and patroles of Hussars extend to Ebingen on the Danube. The advanced guard of the army of the Archduke Charles has passed the Iller near Aitrach, and is marching towards Leuthiech.

STUTGARD, March 13.

On the 10 the French army took possession of the lines of Uberlingen, extending to Moskirch, Sigmaringen, and the town of Voringen; and was in the neighbourhood of the army of the Archduke Charles, in the lines of Lindau, Ravenburg, Biernach and Ulm.

The advanced guard of the army of the Archduke Charles, consisting 18,000 men, is commanded by General Naundorf.

Another letter, same date.

The French troops spread themselves wider, and are advancing on both sides of the Danube, towards Ulm. There are divisions of troops in Ebingin, Rosenfeld, Balingen, &c. On the 11th, a patrole of 60 chasseurs came to Tubingen, but returned to Rothenburg the next day. French patroles have likewise advanced through Menzingen towards Urach. The Austrian patroles, as we are informed; have likewise advanced to Urach, and had a skirmish with the French patroles, in which neither side obtained any decisive advantage. The right wing of the French under Ferino, is extended from Stublingen to Teugen, and thence to Stockach.

This is the second post day that no lettes have arrived from Lindau and the whole Lake of Constance. From Ulm, likewise we have received no intelligence. It is said that the French, after their victory, penetrated through the Voralberg, towards Suabia, and if they have not taken, have at least blockaded Lindau. The Austrians have 10,000 men in the Grison, but they cannot act together.

The Archduke Charles removed his head quarters on the 11th from Memmingen to Wurpach, three leagues from this city.

RASTADT, March 14.

To day the French Ministers gave in a Note to the Deputation, of which the following are the contents.

"The undersigned Ministers Plenipotentiaries of the French Republic have received information of the following fact.

"M. Von Hugel, the Austrian commissary rt the Diet of Ratisbon, on the 20th of Ventose (10th March) repaired to citizen Bacher, charge d'affaires to the French Republic to the Diet, and communicated to him an order from the Archduke Charles, General in chief of the army of the King of Hungary and Bohemia, importing that an Austrian officer was ready to escort the said charge d'affaires to the French advanced posts; to which citizen Bacher answered that his stay at Ratisbon was in consequence of a resolution of the Diet, which had received the Imperial ratificatian, and that he would not depart unless compelled. Notwithstanding this declaration, however, only 24 hours were allowed him to prepare for his journey. The undersigned denounce to the Deputation of the Empire, this violation of every principle and right, of which they must immediately send notice to their government.

"The Ministers Plenipotentiary of the French republic assure the minister plenipotentiory of his majesty the emperor of their consideration.

SWITZERLAND.

ST. GALL, March 12.

Private letters and eye witnesses do justice to the bravery of the Austrians in the late battles; they did not allow the French to purchase an easy victory. They made several attacks at different places, and with the Grisons who had adhered to them fought with obstinacy till driven to the gates of Coire. The courage of the French, however, overcame all obstacles; the mountainous nature of the country, so favourable at first defence, rendered retreat more difficult after the French had carried the principal pass at Mayenfield. It is said that on the 8th and 9th of this month, the Imperial troops at Disentis and Bernhardin likewise fell into the hands of the French; so that the number of prisoners exceeds 8000 men. General Gudinot, on the 8th, was at Feldkirch.

GERMANY.

STUTGARD, March 15.

General Jourdan has given a protection to the Prince of Hoenzolen-Heckingen which is as follows,

Head-Quarters, Villengen, March 8.

"Jourdan, commander in chief of the armies of the Danube, of Helvetia, and of Observation, considering that the reigning Prince of Hoenzollern-Heckingen is connected by the ties of blood with the house of the king of Prussia; that a good understanding subsists between his Prussian Majesty and the French Republic, and also that the reigning Prince of Hoenzollern-Heckingen has always observed the strictest neutrality towards the French Republic, expressly orders that the military, and all those in the train of the army, shall respect the person of that Prince, and all the persons who belong to his house, or are in his service, as well as their properties. The Prince shall be enabled, in case of necessity, to demand assistance from the commanding officers, and the latter are enjoined to employ the armed force to carry into effect the present order.

(Signed) JOURDAN.

VIENNA, March 13.

A courier from Constantinople has bro't a copy of the treaty, offensive and defensive concluded on the 21st of February, between the Porte and the King of the two Sicilies. By the trerty the Porte stipulates immediately to support the king of Naples with 11,000 Albanians, and in the sequel with a much greater force.

The Mrrquis de Chateler yesterday set off in great haste to serve as quarter-master-general in the army of Italy. The Russian troops marching into Germany through Gallicia have received orders to hasten their advance. The Russian troops in Austria have received orders to move on the 18th of this month.

It is affirmed that a certain power has made an agreement with France for the neutrality of all Germany, which it will endeavour to maintain by force. The preparations for war go on with incredible vigor. All the roads are covered with troops marching to the different armies.

PROCLAMATION

Issued by order of his Imperial Majesty, dated March 4.

The troops of the French Repuplic have not only extended their encroachments on the right bank of the Rhine, and the other boundaries of the Austrian states; but, notwithstanding the military conventions, the fortress of Ehrenbreitstein, which served as a barrier to the whole Empire, has, during a cessation of hostilities, been required to surrender by means of an hostile blockade, in order that it might fall into their possession. The hostile attempts of the French combined with the conscription of 200,000 men in France, as well as the powerful levies they made in Switzerland, have afforded sufficient reason to apprehend their views, and have rendered it necessary for his Imperial majesty, on his part, to adopt measures of safety. His Majesty, always accustomed to fulfil the treaties entered into by him, has been desirous of maintaining peace, with a moderation, under all circumstances so strikingly seasonable, that he could not have entertained the smallest ground for supposing a contrary disposition in this respect on the part of the French government. But now, since the restless and encreasing attempts of the French Republic have rendered it every day more necessary to consult the preservation of tranquility, his majesty is unavoidably placed in a situation which obliges him to extend his preparations for general safety in proportion to the hostile steps of the French, and to order his troops also to advance beyond those places where they had hitherto remained in a state of tranquility.

His Imperal Majesty has been led to adopt these measures of precaution not less from a consideration of the dangers with which the greatest part of the Empire is threatened, than from a regard to the security of his own hereditary dominions; and he can entertain no doubt that prompt measures will be taken for the general safety and defence of all the boundaries of the Empire, by which means his Majesty's hereditary dominions may at the same time be preserved.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 21.

Various changes in our ministry are talked of; and the captain Pacha, it is said, is to be dismissed. Buonaparte has completely gained over the merchants of Cairo and other towns in Egypt. He has every where entrenched himself in the strongest manner; and the Turks say that he has been allowed much time to establish himself in Egypt.

Buonaparte endeavoured to open negociations for peace with the Pacha of Acre, but the latter sent back his deputation unheard. The news of the disasters of the King of Naples have made lively impressions on the Porte, and great projects are talked of for his reinstatement which are greatly encouraged by the English. In Egypt many French officers and soldiers have married Egyptian women.

[Our readers will observe that the battle between the Austrians commanded by the Arch Duke Charles, and the French under Jourdan, in which the latter were defeated with great loss, as announced some days ago, took place on or about the 15th of March, and subsequent to the affair between Auffenburgh and Massena.]

TERMS.

THE work will be printed on a fine paper, and a new neat tipe, in large octavo.

Each volume will contain above 500 pages, neatly bound and lettered.

Uniformity in ſize, paper, and binding, will be obſerved throughout the work; ſo that, while the ſubſcribers become poſſeſſed of a valuable record, an ornament may be added to their libraries.

The price to ſubſcribers will be 2 dolls. 75 cts. per volume, in boards, and 3 dolls. whole bound; but, as the publiſher does not intend to print many more than the number ſubſcribed for, a conſiderable riſe on the price may be expected to non-ſubſcribers.

Each volume will contain about one third leſs of letter-preſs than the original edition; but, as the publiſher is not yet enabled to determine the extent of the Private Journals, which he may be allowed to make public, he cannot aſcertain the number of volumes which will compriſe the work.

☞ Payments to be made on delivery of each volume.

Subſcribers will have it at their option, either to ſubſcribe for the whole of the Journals, up to the preſent time, or to thoſe only of the Old Congreſs prior to the organization of the Federal Government.

IN all countries, the proceedings in the commencement of their governments, are loſt in darkneſs and obſcurity, owing to a careleſsneſs, in the ſucceeding generation, to preſerve the public records, and the attention of the nation, in thoſe rude ages, being called off from their domeſtic concerns, to engage in wars and conqueſt. Of what infinite value would the laws of Alfred be, had they been tranſmitted to our days? Time, that deſtroys every thing, enhances the value of well authenticated public records, and renders them almoſt inеſtimable. It is hoped, that Americans will, therefore, chearfully contribute their aſſiſtance in tranſmitting to poſterity the labours of their anceſtors—founders of the Columbian nation.

 The work will certainly be advanced with expedition and promptitude. The following will ſhow the ſupport it has already acquired:

G. SHAW,

Reſpectfully informs the public, he has received from
ROBERT JOHNSTON,
Apothecary, No. 20, Green ſtreet, Soho, London, a freſh and very conſiderable ſupply of his highly eſteemed Medicine.

AWARE of the depredations made on every public medicine of eſtabliſhed repute and extenſive ſale, R. Johnſton, obtained the King of England's Patent for his invention, not "to recommend" but "to diſtinguiſh," Whitehead's Eſſence of Muſtard from

SPURIOUS IMITATIONS.

"Five years have now elapſed ſince Mr. Johnſton firſt made known to the world this very extraordinary medicine; during this ſhort period, its efficacy has been ſo clearly demonſtrateed that its ſale has far exceeded any former example; comparitively there are few families in England or the United States which have not either heard of or experienced its beneficial effects and with heartfelt ſatisfaction he had the happineſs to declare Whitehead's Eſſence of Muſtard has cured more perſons afflicted with Rheumatiſms, Gout, Lumbago, Palſy, Complaints of the Stomach and other Painful Maladies.

Than all the Medicines ever before made public, indeed, the inſtances, of its efficacy and letters of acknowledgment from "the moſt reſpectable characters" are ſo numerous that a large volume could not poſſibly contain them, it has alſo obtained the approbation of the moſt eminent men of the faculty and is honoured by the uſe and recommendation of the firſt families in England, Ireland and America.

A COUNTERFEIT.

R. JOHNSTON has reaſon to believe a large quantity under the name of "Improved Eſſence of Muſtard," as well as many others has been ſhipped for America, and conſiders it his duty to prevent impoſition and diſappointment.

He therefore requeſts the afflicted to be particular in the purchaſe of his bottles, boxes, labels, and bill of directions which are cloſely copied, and words "by royal authority," artfully ſubſtituted for the words "by the king's patent' which may elude common obſervation

The Genuine is diſtinguiſhed by the ſignature of R. Johnſton, in his own hand writing on each label, and as an additional ſecurity is further ſigned on the outſide wrapper by his only agent for the United States, G. SHAW, No. 129 Cheſnut ſtreet, Philadelphia, by whom it is ſold wholeſale and retail, in pills and in a fluid ſtate at one dollar each, box or bottle

FOR CHILBLAINS, SPRAINS AND BRUISES,

It is a certain and effectual remedy, ſeldom requiring more than three or four applications.

To the candid and liberal of the FACULTY, R. Johnſton reſpectfully ſubmits the following obſervations. The Fluid Eſſence of Muſtard, is an embrocation worthy their particular attention, it differs in its nature from all others, and is out of the beaten track of general practice—It is an active ſtimulant, eaſily controuled, may be either increaſed or diminiſhed in its ſtrength by the different methods of uſe, it is both elegant and convenient and is frequently found in the extemporaneous preſcriptions of their brethren in England.

The above Genuine Medicine, as well as many others of the firſt celibrity may be had by appointment of G. Shaw, of Mr. G. Bailey, Wilmington, Dr. Barrill, Maiden Lane, New-York, Meſſrs. Bailey and Walker, Charleſton, William Black, Salem, (N. J.) Charles Hunitch, Lancaſter, A. C. Jorden, Norfolk, John Roberts, do. David Keen, Sweet Springs, Virginia, R. Lee, Baltimore, I. & J. Mantz, Fredericktown, Maryland, G. W. Mancius, Albany, Dr. Vanſolingen, New-York, Meſſrs. Titford & Son, do. Meſſrs. Roſs & Douglas, Pittſburg, John Webſter, Wilmington, James Wilſon, do. Richard Winter & Co. Savannah, and in every principal town in the United States.

N. B. The public are deſired to enquire for Whitehead's Eſſence of Muſtard, all others being a baſe and ſpurious imitation.

"Caution againſt Counterfeits."

Agents are appointed by G. Shaw in every principal town of the United States, and there is no certainty of purchaſing the Genuine Eſſence of Muſtard in any part of America, unleſs it is ſigned on the outſide wrapper by G. Shaw, No. 129, Cheſnut ſtreet, Philadelphia, where ſhopkeepers are ſupplied and a liberal diſcount allowed them.
